

Deadline for applications: 17.30 GMT on 17 July 2024

The new Climate Crisis Grand Challenge (GCCC) at UCL is offering small grants of up to £10,000 for research-informed, societally relevant, cross-disciplinary projects that address the climate crisis. These grants aim to foster grass-roots cooperation between different parts of UCL, community and wider society.

This Climate Crisis Grand Challenge small grants call aims to support the UCL community to make new links, test out new ideas and try out novel approaches. We are looking for collaborations

Awards will be transferred to a Funding must be spent by 31st July 2025 any unspent funds will be returned to UCL Finance at the end of the grant, it does not return to the Grand Challenges.

Eligibility Criteria and Award Conditions

- 1) Proposals must have a strong relevance to the Climate Crisis.
- 2) Eligible collaborations must include a First and Second applicant.
- 3) The First applicant must be a UCL member of staff (academic or professional services)
- 4) The First Applicant's status and period of employment at UCL must enable him or her to receive funding from the Grand Challenges that can be administered by their department
- 5) The Second Applicant should represent expertise from a different area of UCL--It is strongly recommended that the second applicant comes from a different academic faculty or professional services office than the First Applicant. Applications that only